LIGHT VOTE CAST IN CITY CHARTER ELECTION TODAY

Less Than 300 Ballots Are Cast In All Precincts Up To Noon

INDICATES DEFEAT, OPPONENTS DECLARE

First And Third Wards Are Polling Heaviest Returns

An exceptionally light vote at the special election on the question, "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter for the city of Salem?" is predicted from returns obtained from the four wards at noon Tuesday.

Voting in the First and Third wards is heavier than at the other two wards. In the Fourth ward little interest has been shown, a light vote cast.

The polls opened at 6:30 a. m. city time and in some precincts it was several hours later before the first votes were dropped in the ballot boxes.

City charter advocates recently predicted a large women vote but at noon Tuesday returns from all but two of the 11 precincts were to the effect that women's votes were in the minority.

Precinct A of the Third ward leads with 49 votes while Precinct B of the Second ward shows a count of 44 votes.

Reports obtained from the 11 precincts gives the number of votes cast as follows: First ward, Precinct A. 39; Precinct B, 33; Precinct C, 20; Second ward, Precinct A, 11; Precinct B, 44; Third ward, Precinct A, 49; Precinct B, 29; Fourth ward, Precinct A, 20; Precinct B, 23; Precinct C, 14; Precinct D, 20.

City charter opponents predict defeat of the issue because of a light vote in the Fourth ward where they believe sentiment in favor of a change in municipal government is strongest and a fairly heavy vote in the First ward which is conceded to be opposed to the charter form of government.

The accident occurred when the machine rounded a curve near Hubbard and swung off the road. The rear end of the car struck a telephone pole and Miss Hogan, who was riding in the back seat, sustained a fractured skull and a cut above the eye.

She is survived by one brother, Edward W. Deegan of Salem, and one sister, Elizabeth Deegan of Leetonia.

They filed suit in common pleas court Monday against Lyon and the Lyon Motor company of East Palestine, and the court entered judgment on the note for the amount due.

R. D. WILLIAMSON ILL

Columbus June 7.—State officials have been informed of the serious illness of R. D. Williamson Xenia, president of the state board of agriculture. He is suffering from gall stones and jaundice.

PUEBLO RISING FROM DEATH AND DESPAIR

City Engrossed In Being Born Again, Not Bemoaning Fate

Pueblo, Colo., June 7.—After four days of terror and suffering, Pueblo was astir today in an optimistic mood.

The city and its citizens' nerves have been restored, as all fears of further floods have been allayed.

As the raging, angry waters of the Arkansas and Fountain rivers subside, buoyant courage prevails.

For the first time since Thursday night, citizens' slumbers were not disturbed by alarms of floods. The churning, rushing waters of the eddying currents was replaced by the hum of motor patrols and the buzz of attempted business resumption.

The total number of dead bodies recovered and identified early today is 31 but estimates of the death toll range from 200 to 500.

The day broke fair and warmer and despite the favorable effect these weather conditions had on the people, it opens another menace that ma' prove more disastrous than the floods themselves.

Disease, contagion and epidemic are the dangers.

An anti-fly campaign has been started, but it is almost a hopeless battle. Dead animals are buried under wreckage in many parts of the city and stench from these carcasses is already pervading the community, severely handicapping the clean up work.

The water supply is still inadequate and water may be used only for cooking and drinking, it being necessary to boil the water.

Sanitation experts of the United States public health service are putting forth every effort to prevent the outbreak of epidemic. Smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fever are reported from many of the stations.

Willis H. Parker, city commissioner, stated today that the property loss in the flood will reach into the neighborhood of $20,000,000 and that loss of life is impossible of an accurate estimate. He believes, however, that at least 300 perished.

Parker stated that the present urgnt needs of the city are gas, water, lights and communication service, though the latter was being rapidly restored today.

Parker declared that stories of looting were exaggerated, saying that the militia had had little trouble in that respect.

Pueblo is rising from the death and destruction, despair and devastation of the west's worst flood. It is slowly but surely shaking off its shroud of mud and slime. It is so engrossed in being born again, that it has no time to mourn for its misfortunes.

Fourth Woman Is Grilled In Kaber Murder Probe

Cleveland, June 7.—New leads are being followed by County Prosecutor Stanton today in the remarkable developments which have followed thick and fast in the Kaber murder mystery following indictment of Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber last week, and the indictment of her mother, Mrs. Mary Brickel and her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, as co-principals yesterday.

Still another woman has been brought into the case and late yesterday this suspect was grilled for more than seven hours by the county prosecutor and his aide in an attempt to learn who it was that actually killed Dan Kaber, rich invalid, as he lay on his sick bed on the night of July 18, 1919.

Marian McArdle, according to New York dispatches following her arrest there yesterday afternoon, so far corroborates the confession of her grandmother as to admit that she pried open the family sideboard with an ice pick and strewed silverware over the floor to simulate the appearance of a burglary.

Meanwhile, according to the same reports, the alleged principal in the murder plot, Mrs. Kaber, stoutly maintains her innocence. "It's a lie," she is quoted as saying. "I don't care if both Marian and mother say I planned it: I am innocent."

Preparations are going ahead for the return of mother and daughter to Cleveland today.

THOMPSON FORCES LOSE

Chicago, June 7.—Forces opposed to Mayor William Hale Thompson won a sweeping victory in yesterday's judicial election in Chicago and Cook county, complete returns today made certain. Every candidate on the so-called "coalition" ticket, composed of both Republicans and Democrats, which opposed Mayor Thompson's ticket of "straight" Republicans was elected.

SMALLPOX CASES BRING REQUESTS FOR VACCINATION

Health Officer Advises Preventive Step For All Persons

SEVERAL CONTACT CASES REPORTED

Vaccination Is Imperative To Prevent Severe Outbreak Here

In a warning against the spread of smallpox, Health Commissioner R. M. Schwartz Tuesday issued the following appeal for general vaccination.

"It is earnestly urged and advised that every person, regardless of age, who has not had a successful vaccination within te last five years be vaccinated at once.

"This step seemed advisable with the appearance of the first case of smallpox in the city but developments of the last 36 hours show that general vaccination is imperative if a severe outbreak of the disease is to be prevented.

"Through the county board of health two cases of smallpox were investigated Sunday and Monday, one of which is a Salem resident but who is making his home, at present, in Butler township. This case was picked up as a contact of a known case of smallpox and is found to have virtually run its course.

"Because this particular case was never recognized and the patient has been at liberty during the almost entire course of the disease the number of possible contacts cannot be computed. Each contact, unless properly protected against the disease, is liable to contract smallpox and in turn make innumerable other contacts.

"The added responsibility of physicians in reporting promptly all suspicious cases and all cases of chickenpox is evident from the history of the source of the disease in the above mentioned case. One of two cases of what was diagnosed as chickenpox, occuring in adults in Salem caused the same illness in two families living in a neighboring township and the same illness in two families living in a neighboring township and the case mentioned contracted it from the second family thus affected. Inasmuch as this case is smallpox it is reasonable to believe that the original cases were the same.

"Knowing that perhaps more than the one case has been in Salem during the past two weeks, making any number of contacts, it is evident that precautionary measures should be taken to prevent the possible spread of smallpox. The only known preventive in these cases is vaccination. We have the weapon with which to combat this disease and it is the duty of every person to protect himself, his family and the community as a whole"

Mother Brands Her Boy Illegitimate In Order To Retain His Custody

Mrs. Mamie Del Secco & son.
INTL.

Can a mother's love offset the brand of illegitimacy which she herself has placed upon her child?

The answer to this all-human-interest question is being sought by many in California and other parts of the country, following the action of Mrs. Mamie del Secco of San Francisco, who denies that her former husband, Julian Sorine, is the father of her boy. Mr. Sorine is suing for the custody of the boy Eugene, whom he claims as his own son.

The case has aroused a great deal of interest and it has been suggested that the Dr. Albert Abrams blood test be made and sculptor's measurements taken to determine scientifically little Eugene's parentage.

Seniors In Great Frolic At Final Class Banquet

An event that will linger long in the memory of the members of the 1921 graduating class of Salem High school as one of the most pleasant during the four-year course was the Senior class banquet at the High school gymnasium Monday evening.

The banquet was served at 6:30 o'clock and the guests, numbering about 70, members of the class and faculty, were seated at tables arranged in the form of a cross in the center of the gymnasium. Bouquets of roses were used with pretty effects in the decorations and the favors were in purple and gold, the class colors.

The banquet was served by the women of the First Baptist church. The menu follows: Hot meat loaf, mashed potatoes, creamed lima beans, vegetable salad, hot rolls, jam, ice cream, cake, salted nuts, coffee.

James Kesselmire was toastmaster. Charles Lease president of the class, paid a tribute to Miss Alice Clark, senior teacher, and as a token of the esteem in which she is held by the class and in behalf of it he presented her several dozens of red roses. Miss Clark gave a fitting response.

Miss Ruth Lowry spoke of the Freshman year and Lloyd Yoder gave a brief summary of the Sophomore year. Miss Dorothy Faller told of the Junior year, giving it in poetry. James Harris summed up the activities of the Senior year.

"Hitting the High Spots" was the subject of the toast given by Marion Conkle and the program closed with a short talk by Principal Karl Whinnery.

The company then went to the auditorium where a playlet entitled "Flotoes Photoes" was given by the boys of the class. A piano duet was given by James McCleery and Charles Wirsching and they were encored many times.

Returning to the gymnasium the closing hours of the happy occasion were devoted to dancing for which Finley & Schuck's orchestra played.

TWO PRINCIPALS AND NINE SALEM TEACHERS RESIGN

Miss Bridge, Principal Of Junior High School, Resigns

ELECT MISS HART ENGLISH TEACHER

School Board Will Make Annual Inspection Of Schools

The resignations of Principal Karl E Whinnery and 10 teachers in Salem public schools were accepted and one teacher to fill an existing vacancy was appointed Monday night by the board of education.

Four high school teachers sent letters of resignation, some stating that the salary was insufficient and better positions had been offered in larger schools while others gave personal reasons for their action. The high school teachers are Miss Nesta Weaver, Miss Ella Scott, Miss Winifred Childs and Miss Ella Young.

Miss Elesa M. Bridge, principal of Junior high school since its organization five years ago forwarded a letter of resignation along with letters from Miss Ruth Atchison, Miss Helen Howard, Miss Noami Hyland, Mrs. Vaughan Yates and Miss Rhea Dunn.

Miss E. Maude Hart, sister of Mrs. Frank Lease, former teacher at New Brunswick and graduate of Columbia university, was appointed as an English teacher.

Resignations in the ranks of high school teachers are larger this year than usual but smaller in the elementary grades, Supt. J. S. Alan announced. A slight increase in pay has been granted for the new school year in Salem while in other cities of the same size no increase has been granted and in some cases decreases will go into effect.

A number of applications for positions as teachers in Salem have been received and will be submitted to the board of education for action following a complete investigation of their recommendations.

Will Inspect Buildings

The vacancy caused in Junior high by the resignation of Miss Elesa M. Bridge will be filled by a man if possible. The board strongly considered the advisability of selecting a man as principal of Junior high but took no definite action. Applications have been received and are on file.

Beginning at 7:30 a. m. Wednesday the annual tour of inspection of all public schools will be made by the board of education. The inspection will start at McKinley ave. school and an examination of boilers, school property, equipment, interior decorations and exterior surroundings will be made to obtain an accurate knowledge of repairs needed following the closing of the schools for the summer vacation.

G. R. Deming was appointed a member of the library board to fill the unexpired term of office of his father, the late W. F. Deming. Mrs. W. H. Dunn, whose term of office expired May 30, was reappointed.

Authority to borrow $5,000 to defray expenses connected with payment of teachers' salaries and other expenses of the Salem public schools was granted Clerk Albert Hayes.

Both speakers impressed upon the men the necessity of collective operation in gaining their objective.

Preceding the meeting the Deming Drum corps followed by about 50 employes, paraded up and down Main st to arouse interest in the meeting.

Business Agent Griffith stated Tuesday morning that the situation is now at a standstill.

First Aid In Disaster

THE news of the terrible flood disaster in Colorado and of the instant and efficient response of the American Red Cross with supplies, funds, physicians and nurses, awakens a warm reaction in the heart of Salem. This city will never forget how, in the time of its epidemic disaster, the Red Cross put its forces here to work, expanding the local chapter organization, sending its workers by the scores, furnishing what was needed, carrying the city over its period of great need in a manner which could not be equalled by any other organization in the country.

What the Red Cross did here it is now doing in Colorado, where at Pueblo and neighboring communities death and devastation came a few days ago with the suddenness of a great tragedy.

Out of the carnage and horror of war the America Red Cross emerged with a new and glorified fame. Because of what it had done during the war all Americans came to know its capabilities and its wonderful helpful power. One of the leading daily papers in commenting on the disaster in Colorado, telling of the loss of life, the suffering, the devastation, the dangerous sanitary conditions, summed up the whole story, and expressed the feeling of the whole nation, when it added, with a tone of finality, as expressing the fact that all that could be done would be done: "The Red Cross, however, is in touch with the situation, and whatever help is needed is being rushed forward."

Americans in every city, town and hamlet in the nation rest more contentedly today because they know that there is no place so remote but that as fast as possible help of every kind will be sent in ample measure by the Red Cross should disaster occur.

Roads Of Memory

A VERY beautiful custom which has of recent years come into being among us is that of laying out highways in memory of the brave men who have gone out in defense of their country, and especially of those who gave ther lives for the flag, and of lining these highways with memorial trees.

The "Roads of Remembrance" idea originated with the American Forestry association, in connection with the avenue of memorial trees leading to the tomb of the late President McKinley at Canton. Following this lead such roads are being made in many parts of the country. For marking places of special national interest many patriotic organizations are adopting the road idea and are thus not only beautifying the scenery of our country but are adorning our national spirit with beauty.

Mrs. Warren G. Harding has sent the trowel she used in planting the Ohio tree on the Road of Remembrance of the American Forestry association to Mrs. William D. Caldwell of Canton, president of the Lincoln Highway Memorial association there, to be used by her in the ceremony of planting 200 trees along the memorial road from the Lincoln highway to the McKinley monument.

There is in these facts a suggestion of something which patriotic organizations in Salem might well consider. There are roads or ways in or about this city which on study would be found well suited to adornment as "roads of remembrance." Salem has done its full share of patriotic work, has made its offering on the altar of sad sacrifice. Would not a Road of Memory be a beautiful addition to our city's life?

A short time ago, in commenting on the remarkable performance of Miss Laura Bromwell in looping the loop in her airplane 199 times in rapid succession, the News asked the question, What is the use of such performances? The death of Miss Bromwell Sunday afternoon at Mineola field while engaged in her favorite stunt of looping the loop is the tragic answer to the query.

The announcement that in certain places in New England the use of rubber hose, straps and "real" whips for punishing school children is to be forbidden hereafter, arouses a wonder in one's mind as to what kind of pedagogical barbarism was still prevailing in that benighted region.

RESURFACING ROAD

Seven car loads of brick and slag received in Lisbon Monday are being unloaded and trucked to the Lincoln highway between Lisbon and the Spence farm, and the work of resurfacing and widening the highway between these points will be begun just as soon as the material is on the ground which will be within a few days. The road is to be paved with brick from Lisbon to McLaughlin's farm, about two miles south of town, and macadamized the remainder of the distance. When completed the road will be 16 feet wide.

Engineer Armstrong has arranged a detour over the Black road from a point just beyond the Wellsville bridge, coming out again on the Lincoln highway at Applegate's farm.

NAMES OF 200 WOMEN AND 500 MEN PLACED ON NEW JURY WHEEL

Lisbon, June 7.—The granting of the right of suffrage to the women of Columbiana county which carries with it the right to serve on juries, has necessitated the purchasing of a new jury wheel, which was installed Monday in the office of Clerk Williams, replacing the one of smaller size.

Monday the new wheel received cards bearing the names of 700 prospective jurors, 500 of which are the names of men and 200 women. J. N. Mahaffie and Albert Kennedy, members of the jury commission, who have been in session in the law library for ten days choosing the names of the 700 men and women who are to do jury duty during the coming year, completed their work Monday afternoon and left for their homes.

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work. I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimonial if you think it will help others."—Mrs. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been made well by it. That is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

Eye-Witness Gives Graphic Account of Flood-Swept Scenes

The following exclusive story was written for The News by W. W. Price, widely known capitalist of Colorado Springs, who made his way up from Pueblo in an automobile over treacherous railroad beds from which many miles of track had been wiped out. The 44-mile journey required eight hours. It was on the strength of information brought by Mr. Price that local citizens organized committees for emergency relief for the stricken city and a gang of 250 men was sent out to start restoring the roads.

BY W. W. PRICE

Copyright, 1921, by I. N. S.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 7.—A veritable swiping, sucking, styx, bearing in its yellow muck, houses, cattle, horses, trees and timber; smashing everything in its path and here and there limp bodies whirling with the current, to appear for a moment and then swoop down, going through a window of a house to be again sucked out, on their silent journey of death, down into the mud of the roaring Arkansas river, on the worst rampage of its turbulent career.

Such were the scenes that I witnessed in Pueblo, from late Friday night until my escape from the turmoil.

In all my wildest dreams, I have never imagined such an experience possible. Silent, yet swishing—forever swishing — waters holding in their grip a city of 50,000 souls, and under the eerie light of a score of fires in all parts of the flooded areas, men moved like ghosts during the black night when Pueblo walked in the valley of the shadow.

PITIABLLE SCENES AT ASYLUM FOR INSANE

Perhaps the most pitiable scene was at the Colorado asylum for the insane, situated in the flood area, surrounded by the waters, and filled with menace. When the waters began to get into the grounds, the insane, who had been at the windows, became frantic, despite the efforts of nurses and men attendants to take them back.

Screams filled the air and many beat themselves into insensibility in an effort to escape from their bars. But all were removed safely to the second and third floors of the hospital.

Marooned by the waters and with their supplies of food destroyed, drinking only of the muddy waters, they were in a pitiable plight, until supplies were brought to them by men in rowboats.

Water, water, everywhere but not a drop to drink. A terrible situation. Disease lurks in the yellow mud that floats in the streams. The city's waterworks was early out of commission and will be for many days.

When the warning sirens tolled Friday night, I, like many others curiously went toward the river front, not expecting any rapid rise. I left my motor car and was walking and then I saw men running toward me for their lives. The water was soon lapping at their heels and I turned and fled to my car, a block away. So fast did the water come, that no sooner did I get my car out from the curb than the waters were on me and stepping on the throttle with all the power I had, I sped up the street, but then the waters lapped under my running boards. But I reached safety.

FLAMES SWEEP STORES; FIREMEN ARE HELPLESS

Then came the fires, when timbers, lighted in the King Lumber yard's blaze, went darting here and there, carrying their flames. Many were extinguished, but winds carried hundreds into stores and homes and a score of fires broke out at once.

Firemen stood on higher ground, helplessly watching the blazes. The ruin to business was total in the down town area, except in some few cases, where goods were on floors above the second story.

Practically all the business section of the city was inundated, the river returning to its old channel, that in 1870 took it through the heart of the town. You cannot teach an old river new tricks. Business men are ruined, as there is no salvation or salvage, no insurance.

A railroad man who escaped from the flood, told me the story of the two trains filled with passengers, with steam up in the yards for the signal to leave, but which delayed five minutes too long. Railroad men were heroes here, like the captains on stricken ocean liners, not leaving their ships until the last passengers were out.

Conductor Cal Groves, of the Denver and Rio Grande train No. 3, and a colored Pullman porter carried arm loads of children to higher ground, where others were waiting to move them to safety. They returned for more. Four trips they made and when the waters were tearing down at 30-miles an hour, they went back for two women. A floating tie struck Groves in head an dboth men were knocked down and drowned. Their bodies were found later.

In a few minutes the force of the flood had overturned both the trains, one a Denver and Rio Grande and the other a Missouri Pacific, onto their sides. There were many passengers in them and apparently the majority were lost. Now the railroad yards are six feet deep in mud, with four feet of water on them and it will be a week before anyone knows the extent of the casualties there.

JAMES KEYSER DRINKS POISON TO END LIFE

James Keyser, aged 58, died Saturday afternoon at the home of Jacob Steltz, northeast of Lisbon, as the result of taking a dose of strychnine. He had taken the poison before entering the Steltz home and died within a few minutes after he had entered his room.

He is survived by several children, Mrs. Carrie Farmer, of Uniontown, near Columbiana, being a daughter. One brother, Howard Keyser, north of Lisbon, also survives.

The body was taken to the Crowell funeral parlors in Leetonia where funeral service was Tuesday afternoon. Burial in the Columbiana cemetery.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goiter, enlarged glands and wens.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver of stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or The Lease Drug Co., Floding's Pharmacy or Bolger & French can supply you.

Opportunity is Knocking at Your Door

1,200,000 homes are needed in the United States.

Are you still waiting for LOWER PRICES?

A few months back prices were high.

Today, PLUMBING and HEATING materials are from 15 to 25 per cent lower. And, a reduction of 25 per cent offsets a previous advance of 33 1-3 per cent.

After the Spanish-American war it took almost FIFTEEN YEARS for prices to get anywhere near the pre-war levels.

Will you wait and deny yourself the satisfaction and comfort of modern conveniences for the few dollars you MIGHT save by waiting?

We think not! Talk to us now about new Heating and Plumbing. It is really likely that prices will soon show an upward "curve."

REPUBLICAN LEADERS GATHER IN CAPITAL TO PLAN NEXT FIGHT

Washington, June 7—The greatest influx of Republicans into the capital since inauguration began today in anticipation of the national committee meeting here Wednesday. The committee will give first impetus to the congressional campaign of 1922, adopt a system of party reorganization in the south and elect a chairman to succeed Will H. Hays.

The Republican party is backing away from the idea of reduction of southern representation in national conventions beyond the existing party rule that no congressional district casting fewer than 7,500 Republican votes in the preceding presidential election shall be entitled to more than one delegate in the convention.

John T. Adams of Iowa, vice chairman, will be elected chairman to succeed Mr. Hays, probably by acclamation. Ralph Williams, member from Oregon, probably will be elected vice chairman to succeed Mr. Adams, and Clarence Miller of Minnesota, secretary of the committee, will be continued in that office.

The gathering will be in the nature of a Republican reunion just a year from the day of the opening of the Chicago convention, which nominated Harding. The principal business of the arriving politicians is to push patronage.

Republican leaders are convinced it is by no means too soon to begin the fight for control of the next congress. The Hays group is a forehanded lot of politicians, who began organizing the country for the 1920 presidential contest more than three years ahead of time.

These same men believe political conditions now make it advisable that they begin early and work late, if they are to maintain a decisive majority in the next house of representatives.

ROAD WORK IS HALTED BY TEAMSTERS STRIKE

Teamsters working on the grading contract in St. Clair township, where the road between the paved California Hollow road and the western end of the concrete road from Calcutta is being widened by the county, went on strike Monday for an increased wage.

A steam shovel is working in the cut. It is the intent of the county commissioners to widen the roadway, then build a macadam road of about 1,000 feet to connect the paved road with the concrete highway.

For many weeks this "cut off" has been practically impassable. Treads in the road have been so deep that axles of machines and drip pans would drag and so bind against the road that it was impossible to proceed.

The grading work was continuing with rapidity until Monday when the teamsters refused to work for 80 cents per hour.

Conferences are now being held so the widening of the road can be continued.

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF FORDS ANNOUNCED

Detroit, June 7.—The Ford Motor company today announced a reduction in the list prices of all types of Ford cars and the Ford trucks, to take effect immediately. The list prices, f. o. b. Detroit, are:

Touring cars, $415; runabout, $370; coupe, $690; sedan, $760; chassis, $345, and truck chassis, $495.

A statement accompanying the reductions says:

"The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of lower material costs, which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact, together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the last three months, permitting maximum production, have made possible another price reduction immediately."

Wages of Ford workmen will not be reduced, the statement says.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Salem Lighting company was held Tuesday. Directors were elected as follows:

U. S. Threatens To Sell Coal To Cut Prices

Washington, June 7.—Sharp warning that the government may enter the coal business in order to reduce prices was given coal operators here today by Secretary of the Interior Fall.

The warning came at a conference between Secretary Fall, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, and representatives of the anthracite and bituminous industries, and after the operators had voiced their opposition to proposed legislation which would make it incumbent on them to furnish the government with statistics showing production and cost.

REINSTATE PRINCIPAL AS FIGHT DEVELOPS

East Liverpool, June 7.—The school board fight over the reappointment of Prof. I. A. Hoffman, as principal of the Central school building, was brought to an abrupt ending yesterday when the board unanimously reelected him as principal of the school "after all misunderstandings had been adjusted."

The school board's decision cancels the public hearing which was to have been held Tuesday evening when Prof. Hoffman was to have been charged with insubordination on written charges preferred by Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger.

Neither Hoffman's friends nor members of the school board would discuss the matter.

Both sides were preparing for the fight Tuesday evening, when the matter was finally adjusted, Prof. Hoffman had retained Attorney R. G. Thompson to represent him.

Harding Asks Aid For Sufferers In Colorado Floods

Washington, June 7. — President Harding issued a request today to the people of the United States to assist by contributions to the American Red Cross in rendering aid to the people of Pueblo, Colo., because of flood conditions.

In a formal statement addressed to the people of the United States, the president asked that contributions be made at once for use by the Red Cross in Pueblo and surrounding stricken territory. The text of the appeal follows:

"To the people of the United States:

"Overwhelming disaster has come to the people of Pueblo and surrounding districts. Realization of their sufferings now, and in the days to come, prompts me to issue an urgent request to all whose sympathies are awakened to assist the labors of the American Red Cross, which has quickly organized to deal with the first great need and will stand by until homes and home life can be re-established. Contributions may be sent at once through the office of any chapter, or directly to Red Cross headquarters at Washington, for use in the stricken territory.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Floding's Pharmacy and Bolger & French have been appointed agents for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

OHIO LEADERS PLAN TO ELEVATE STANDARD OF TEACHING PROFESSION

Columbus, June 7.—The brikes are to be applied to Ohio's portion of the nation-wide teacher recruiting machinery set in motion a few years ago when educational leaders almost in desperation saw men teachers enter war industries and women teachers go into commercial work, leaving many schools untaught except for men and women who were inducted to re-enter the profession after having retired from it.

Heads of Ohio normal schools met with other Ohio educational officials here today to devise means to make the county normal schools sifting machines instead of unchecked, free-for-all enlisting posts.

Next fall county normal directors are to be impressed with the importance of having only the best-fitted and equipped entering the teaching profession. Directors are to be instructed to advise apparent misfits to enter other work for which they may be better adapted.

Also they are to be reminded that students who don't come up to standard in county normal schools ought not to be graduated instead of being given diplomas and the right to enter second year work in the state normals. Greater attenton also is to be given to qualifications of county normal directors.

"You can't make a teacher out of just anybody," said Vernon M. Reigel, state superintendent of public institution, "and the sooner this is realized the better it will be for our schools."

SEARCHING FOR CABINET TIMBER

Governor Certain Court Will Sustain Emergency Clause.

OPPONENTS ALSO CONFIDENT

"Certificates of Honor," Authorized by the Eighty-third General Assembly, Being Mailed Out by Adjutant General Florence—Death of Ralph Tyler Recalls Fight Between Foraker and Roosevelt.

Columbus, June 7.—Confident that the supreme court will sustain the sufficiency of the emergency clause in the reorganization bill, Governor Davis is looking over the Ohio forests in a search to find suitable timber out of which to construct the executive cabinet of eight members, which are to replace the many now in existance.

Equally confident that their contention will be upheld by the court, opponents of the measure are making ready with preparations and petitions for a referendum upon it. The Democratic state organization, it is said, will have charge of the circulation of the petitions, but is promised Republican opposition support in many sections of the state. State Chairman W. W. Durbin is said to have facitiously warned opponents of the bill not to make the referendum "too solemn."

Ohio's contribution to the cause of humanity in the late world war in dead was 6,093, about one-third of whom died in action, according to information given out by Adjutant General Florence. Two hundred and twenty-seven of the Ohio total were naval dead.

"Certificates of Honor," authorized by the Eighty-third general assembly, are being mailed out by Adjutant General Florence to the next of kin of each man. The certificates, engrossed with the name of the person in whose honor it is issued, is signed by State Senator T. W. Jones, Representative John Chester and former Adjutant General Roy E. Layton, designated as the legislature's committee, and by Adjutant General Florence.

These dead are divided as follows: Killed in action (white) 2,025, (colored) 33; died of wounds received in action (white) 739, (colored) 7; died of disease, accidents or other causes (white) 1,271, (colored) 69; domestic deaths (white) 1,864, (colored) 74. Eleven officers, addresses unknown, are included.

Ralph W. Tyler, prominent colored Republican and newspaperman, who died suddenly at his home in this city a few days ago, will be remembered as a beneficiary of the fierce Roosevelt-Foraker controversy over the former's decision in holding an entire company of colored troops responsible for the shooting up of Brownsville, Tex., by a few members of the company.

Senator Foraker, who had fought through the Civil war to secure to the colored people their political and civil rights, sought to increase the popular prestige which he enjoyed among them as a people by protesting against the punishhment and the humiliation of the entire company for the sins of a few. He insisted that the guilty ones should be singled out and punished by courtmartial or otherwise. His protest was in vain, and he then appealed to the American sense of fairness and justice, paying just tribute to the patriotism and valor of the colored troops in all wars. Foraker, who was a candidate for the Republican party presidential nomination, succeeded in arousing such feeling that Roosevelt was finally obliged to take cognizance of it, and countered to win back the colored people by appointing Tyler as auditor in the United States navy department.

Foraker continued the fight, but lost in the end. Tyler however, had won, and remained in office during the continuance of the Roosevelt regime and through the administration of President Taft. There were about 100 white employes in the office under Tyler. They were displeased at first, and some threatened to resign, but none did so and few died. The recognition given the colored people appeased their wrath.

A number of years ago the late Senator Tillman of South Carolina slipped into Columbus and out again and was not recognized except by one or two persons. He visited the Ohio legislature which was then in session and watched it in action. Before leaving, he remarked to the fellow who sat next to him in the gallery:

"When I see a legislative body in session I am impressed with the truth of the saying that statesmen are born and not made." He did not interpret his observation, so that the one to whom he had addressed the remark was left in doubt as to whether it was intended to be complimentary or otherwise.

It happened that the general assembly was pretty evenly divided politically so that there was nothing partisan in his comment. He asked interestdly which was the South Carolina corner in the house of representatives.

A Republican member of the Ohio general assembly, whose name for obvious reasons can not be disclosed, commenting on the passage of the law excusing women voters from giving their age when they go to register, and contrasting it with the failure of the legislature to pass the minimum wage bill for women, said it was impossible to entirely please the women unless they are given everything they want.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that the passage of the one and failure to pass the other made a fair compromise, and gave women the measure they most desired, and the one they would have chosen, if given the alternative of making a choice."

Edgar Ervin was a member of the legislature from Meigs county many years ago. As Republican floor leader, he always made the motion to recess or adjourn. He would say, "I move that the house does now adjourn." One of his colleagues one day questioned the grammatical form of his motion, and suggested it would be more correct to say: "I move that the house do now adjourn."

The criticism got under Ervin's skin. He took the matter up with several members. Realizing that it was actually a worry on Ervin's mind, one of the members consulted came to his rescue one day and said: "Ervin, what the people of Ohio want is results, and when you make the motion to adjourn sine die, they will not notice the form of your motion or criticise it if they should, but I think you are right and your critics wrong."

It was not long after that the assembly adjourned sine die on Ervin's motion, so far as the house was concerned.

Louis H. Houck of Mt. Vernon, who was secretary to Governor James M. Pattison, and now a member of the appellate court in the Mt. Vernon district, was in the city a few days ago. A party of friends was discussing one of the tentative taxation programs then under consideration by the general assembly.

"I don't know what position the Democrats in the assembly may take," said Judge Houck seriously, "but it seems to me that they would be justified in opposing any form of taxation on the ground that 'taxation without representation' is unfair, unjust and even tyranical." And then he added: "The Democrats are all out of work," and the members of the party all had a good laugh, the Republicans, of whom there were several, being the most boisterous, of course.

"I don't know what their interest may be, or, the charm," said Jim Lewis, for many years bill clerk in the Ohio house of representatives, "but I have noticed for the past quarter of a century that about the same people crowd the house galleries each year. Not all of the same people were there at the session just closed, of course. Many of them have died. I made inquiry concerning one familiar character, a daily visitor for years. When told he had died, I asked what was the trouble, and his companion said he guessed he was "gassed," but had died a hero, because he died on the "firing" line, or not far distant.

An unusually large lobby was present during the late session of the legislature. It was not the kind that sought to corrupt, but rather persuade by argument and eloquence. At least there was no hint of corruption or any attempt at it.

There were two classes of lobbyists, those who were registered and those who were unregistered. About the only difference in them was that those who had complied with the state law by registering seemed to think it gave them a pedigree.

"Watching Ohioans Run the Government," is the headline in an Ohio newspaper over a gossipy Washington letter each day. Not only is an Ohioan president, but this state has the peculiar distinction at this time of being the only state in the country that has the son of a former president a member of its state legislature, Robert A. Taft, son of former President William Howard Taft.

New York shared a similar honor until Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late President Roosevelt, was appointed assistant secretary of the navy by President Harding and resigned his membership in the New York assembly to take up his new duties. The younger Taft is modest, unassuming, watchful and reasonably active as a member of the legislature. A greater responsibility rests upon him, perhaps, than any other member, for the reason that he must so deport himself that the fame which has come to his family name shall not be dimmed. He seems to be the kind who will perform his duty without fear or favor, and the people of the state will watch his career with kindly interest.

STATE REALTY VALUES JUMP TO SIX BILLIONS, ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS

In 94 years, or from 1826 to 1920, the value of realty in Ohio advanced from $15,946,840 to $6,342,879,537. In the same number of years, the value of personal property advanced from $11,065,820 to $4,329,400,045.

This interesting item of information is contained in the eleventh annual report of the tax commission of Ohio, a copy of which has just been received by County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton.

The grand duplicate of Ohio, when this report was compiled was placed at $10,633,102,422, and shows the largest increase in taxable property in Ohio since 1910, when the tax commission began to function.

During January every year, the auditor of each county is required to make a finding to the board of county commissioners as to whether the real estate of his county is upon the duplicate at its full value in money. Within 20 days thereafter, and after a public hearing has been afforded, the county commissioners may "affirm, modify or set aside" the auditor's finding.

Twenty-five free holders of any taxing district may petition for a revaluation of its real estate, if this has not been made possible by the county officials named. It is the intent of the law to have these preliminaries early in the year, so that unless an unforeseen obstacle intervenes, the auditor may have his new duplicate in readiness for the December collection of taxes, which is the first half of Ohio's tax year.

There is a further provision that the tax commission may order a reappraisement in any taxing district, i. e, any township, municipality or ward, where the commission finds upon investigation that its property is not upon the duplicate at its true value. The statute in providing this peremptory order does not designate the county as a unit. Its evident purpose was to carefully refrain from depriving the local authority of its cherished "home rule" in taxation matters.

The commission has the further power of ordering an arbitrary increase or decrease of the aggregate value of the property in any county, township, city, village, ward or taxing district if it finds such property is not listed at its true value in money.

PENNSYLVANIA VACUUM CUP FABRIC AND CORD TIRES
PENNSYLVANIA TON TESTED REGULAR AND CORD TYPE TUBES

For the month of June only we will continue to give FREE a Ton Tested Tube of same size and type with each first class Vacuum Cup Tire.

The superior qualities of Vacuum Cup Tires are well established by the large number of cars that are Vacuum Cup equipped. Consider these facts. What do they mean? Out of the large nuber of rubber companies operating today, a very small number are working to capacity and a large percentage are working half time. On the other hand the Pennsylvania Rubber Co. is working 24 hours a day and seven days a week and are 80,000 tires behind in their orders. There is a reason and that reason is quality, satisfaction and service.

EYE-WITNESS

ed, I witnessed one of the finest incidents in my life. Two high school boys secured a boat from a lake north of the city. When they learned that their pal, Francis King, son of the owner of the yard, was in danger, they rescued the boy and his father, George King, millionaire, and went back for two more trips, with the flaming timbers hurling around them and every minute threatening to inundate them.

Dr. Herbert Carey, prominent physician, stripped to his underwear, took a boat to rescue his son, Robert, 10 years old, who was trapped in his father's office on the second floor of an office building. He got the youngster into a boat and a huge tree struck the boat, capsizing it. His body was found around the block Saturday morning.

I saw a two-story frame house, swirling and bobbing its way down Main st, a woman in the second story window. It crashed into a department store and the woman was thrown into the flood.

Night Captain Jack Sinclair, of the police department, told me that a crew of four men in boats took 18 families out of the windows of their homes on the west side of the town. A mother, the captain said, had her babe clasped in her arms when the youngster frightened by the events gave a lurch and pitched out into the black waters. With a moan, the woman threw herself in after the child.

FEAR MANY BODIES ARE BURIED IN MUD

Pueblo men Sunday morning told me that they were positive that scores of drowned will never be found and where entire families in the "bottoms" were wiped out, no one will ever know whether they are dead or alive. The river carrying its mass of wreckage for 100 miles into Kansas must have deposited in the yellow mud, many bodies that some farmer may plow up next spring when planting his crops.

The people in the "bottoms" living in small shacks, and other squatters in tents, refused to heed the early warnings. When they tried to get out with their belongings, it was too late. One aged gypsy woman, carrying a mantel clock was seen to slip back into the stream as she was trying to get out with her burden. Apparently, time meant a lot for her.

As we stood watching the streams all night Friday, the only sounds were the shouts from the rescuers, or here and there a groan from those being carried to the first aid stations. When the fires burned low, it was pitch dark and the rescuers were almost helpless.

With the light plant destroyed and candles impossible to secure, the city was in total darkness and the dumbfounded citizens maintained silent watches, fearing for the unmerciful daylight that would reveal the extent of their sufferings and loss.

I heard of a railroad brakeman who escaped by riding the hurricane deck of a freight car. The car rolled and tossed like a broncho, but the brakeman held on where others would be torn loose.

Pueblo people must be praised for their bravery and ability to organize. In less than an hour after the flood was at its worst, the town was patrolled by American Legion volunteers, police and citizens.

The ghouls began their dastardly work in the darkness, and one Mexican was shot dead as he swam out of a jewelry store, which he had attempted to loot.

As the waters receded Sunday morning, they left a slippery yellow, slimy mud, two feet deep. Buried in this mud, there must be many of the dead.

Suffering of a Quarter Century Quickly Relieved by Nerv-Worth

West Virginian Tells Interesting Story.

"I suffered 25 years with stomach trouble and nervousness," said L. F. Ferguson, Route 2, Clarksburg, W. Va., in a letter written some time ago, and he continues, "I had pains in my stomach, back and side, and my circulation was poor. I got no sleep and was as tired in the morning when I got up as when I went to bed. I became restless and despondent. I had doctored right smart and spent lots of money, but my food would not digest and I was always full of gases. Since taking Nerv-Worth, my condition is a great deal better in every way. I am feeling good, sleeping fine, my food digests, and the gases are gone. My whole general condition is much improved and I certainly recommend Nerv-Worth to my friends." If it's stomach trouble you have, the above statement proves to you that Nerv-Worth is the medicine you want. Remember if your first bottle is not satisfactory, your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Sold by all leading druggists everywhere.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

YOUTH DROWNS TRYING TO RESCUE COMPANION

Akron, June 7.—The body of Frank Dence was dragged from Aker's pond early this morning where the 14-year-old boy lost his life shortly after 7:30 last night in a futile effort to save the life of his chum, Edward Pramuk, aged 10.

The lads were fishing and while walking along the bank of the pond Pramuk slipped and fell in. Without hesitation Dence leaped into the water and indications are he was fought deperately by his companion in the wild scramble to escape drowning.

RED CROSS LEADERS OF DISTRICT DISCUSS PROGRAM OF SERVICE

Akron, June 7.—Representatives of 21 chapters of the American Red Cross in Northeastern Ohio are planning to attend a regional conference at the Y. W. C. A. here Wednesday.

Vital chapter problems in connection with the fulfillment of the peace program of the Red Cross will be discussed from the viewpoint of the community's best interests. A deeper appreciation than ever before of the obligations of the chapter and a consequent quickening of activities are looked forward to as an outgrowth of the conferences.

How chapters are carrying out the nation-wide garment production project for the relief of destitute children in Central and Eastern Europe will be told by delegates. Examples of children's conservation clothing that is being reconstructed by volunteer workers from used material will be exhibited at the meeting here.

Ways in which the Red Cross Teaching center may be made of increasing service to the community; maintenance of assistance to ex-service men; building up disaster relief preparedness; opening up new avenues of service for the Junior Red Cross and closer co-operation of chapter officials with the Red Cross public health nurse in each community will be among the topics discussed by chapter representatives.
